El Paso Museum of History Hosts Media Preview for New Accessibility Initiatives

- WHO: El Paso Museum of History
WHAT: Media Preview for New Accessibility Initiatives
WHEN: 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Friday, April 7
WHERE: El Paso Museum of History, 510 N. Santa Fe St.

The El Paso Museum of History (EPMH) invites the media for preview of the new Accessibility Initiatives which includes Low-Sensory Saturdays and 3D-Printed Artifacts.

Starting Saturday, April 8—and happening every second Saturday of each month from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.—Low Sensory Saturdays will feature dimmed lights, lowered volume in exhibits, semi-private and quiet space availability, and easy hands-on crafts.

Created through a partnership with Fab Lab El Paso, EPMH will be exhibiting 3D-printed scans of artifacts that visitors can handle which will be displayed with braille labels and QR codes with recorded audio descriptions.

This project was made possible in part thanks to support from the El Paso Community Foundation, El Paso Electric's Community Partner Program, and Marathon's Community Investment Program.

As part of the Low-Sensory Saturday atmosphere and inclusivity, no media will be allowed on site during Low-Sensory Saturdays.
